A lot of moving parts influence the future vitality of our state. We have a grand opportunity right now to write a new community blueprint that connects those moving parts and harness them to benefit all of us, together. We need your help to co-author that blueprint.

You're invited to join our community conversation about building a Minnesota where we can all thrive.

Thriving by Design. It's a state of the future that starts right now for every one of us, where equity drives growth and we all contribute to and benefit from a thriving, inclusive economy. Together our voices can design a thriving future for all Minnesotans.

BLUEPRINT IDEAS

Thriving by Design is a collective effort to spark a movement for Minnesota that builds a future for our state where all Minnesotans thrive together and equity is the superior growth model. Using a racial, rural-urban, and socioeconomic equity lens, the initial six-month process encourages a different approach to policy development.
